

The FCC should ban all content protection from the airwaves and cable or satellite.

This is like burning down libraries!

Only internet retransmission controls might be acceptable.